

Anastasia's Pov

God....I want to runaway from here. I am sitting at my study table across one my Father's men Bruno,also my teacher who is busy explaining the Rutherford's atomic model to me while i zone out.The man doesn't get tired. He has been teaching me chemistry for like two hours. I am exhausted.

"Are you even listening?" Bruno asked in annoyed tone

"yeah." Suddenly the door flew opened and my elder brother Enzo stood there. Blood splattered all over his face, his shirt ripped and his knuckles were bleeding.He was eyeing me like a Hawk.

"what happened?" i panicked and rushed towards him.

"Bruno leave" he growled and poor Bruno gathered his stuff and ran away like a dog.

" Dad says get ready, we are going at the Rocco's mansion. Adrian's dad has held some stupid fucking ball." Adrian is my cousin and i try my best to avoid him he is a playboy and a complete asshole.

"i don't want to go." As i said those words suddenly the door barged open, there stood my dad an angry expression on his face.

he's an exception and everyone knows we are Best friends.

"Oh Ana Banana, you look nice in this dress." Cole says. My dress is white and is from Versace. It hugs my curves so perfectly and the white net material makes it look more ravishing. My makeup is simple and i am wearing a diamond pendant of my mama.

Me and Cole,we both left the room and get into the living room where my all Brothers, Nonna, Mom and Dad are waiting for us. In the car i am squished between Antonio and Diego my brothers. Enzo is driving and Nathan is in the passanger seat rambling about the girl he fucked last night. Cole is in his car. My Parents are riding in an another car with my nonna.

The car stops in front of a large beautiful mansion. The stairs are covered with the red carpet and we all enter the hall. It was beautiful the Chandeliers hung low their light illuminating the environment, The whole place was decorated with flowers. People were busy in their own conversations. My parents left to meet some of their friends and my brothers...they started throwing vodka down like water and started flirting with the girls there. To avoid all this i left the hall and went to the yard. It was dark and quite there only moonlight was lighting the place,it was so peaceful.

I heard something move in the bushes behind. When I turned on my back i almost screamed there stood a man in a blue tuxedo. He looked so beautiful. God that man was Adonis himself. Perfectly built, broad shoulder muscles, chiseled jaw, light stubble and his aura was dominating. He screamed danger. A stoic expression on his face.

And his eyes....God those Ocean Eyes. i didn't know i was staring in those blue orbs for so long until he made a move and left.

i stood there frozen. Never have i ever saw a man this hot and handsome. He was so perfect. "Anastasia!!!" My brother Diego shouted breaking my train of thoughts.

i looked at him. He looked so angry and yanked my arm so badly.

"what are you doing?"

"Does dad know where you are? He ordered us not to leave you alone for a second and you are here. why don't you fucking listen? You always get us all in trouble...Now come!" He shouted

He dragged me into the hall where my other brothers were they looked pissed and scolded me not to get out of their sight. To lighten up my mood i chatted with Cole. Cole and i sipped cocktails and he rambled about some of his favorite tv shows. Suddenly my eyes locked with

"What did you just said."he asked fuming with anger. i told him I don't want to go and suddenly my dad slapped me hard on my face.i stood there shocked.

"You do as i say. And what the stunt did you just pulled up? I told you not to fucking come into my study when my guests are there.But you, you disobeyed me..... Don't ever do something like that again or you'll face the circumstances. Now get the fuck ready till 7. Understood?!"

"Yes" i said crying and he stormed out of my room. And my brother Enzo followed him. My mama came after and pulled me into her arms and calmed me down.She helped me picking a dress and left the room.

That's my fairytale. A broken fairytale. Things never go the way i want. I do as my family says. My dad and my 5 Brothers control my life. My only fault is that i am born into a mafia family. My Dad owns this city New York. I am isolated is this Castle looking prison.

Suddenly there's a knock at my door. "come in." as i said there stood my best friend Cole. Cole is a family friend of us, he is like a brother to me our bond is unbreakable. Though my dad and brothers never trust a guy around me but tv shows. Suddenly my eyes locked with those blue eye. The intensity of his gaze makes me flustered. He looked at me like i am some dirty thing some garbage. i broke the eye contact and looked away.

Me and my brothers were leaving and that blue eyed man came in our view and smirked looking at us. My brothers looked at him each with a different expression I don't know surprised,scared or angered.

"What the fuck do you want Warner?!"
Nathan barked.

"Won't you all give me a proper hello Damelio's?" Warner said.

"No!" Enzo said.

"I am just here to talk with your Father!"
the guy named Warner said

Anastasia go home with Diego now. We'll come later." Enzo said he looked like he is controlling his anger.

Me and Diego left and went to the car.

"Who was he?"i asked my brother and he growled shutup to me. i asked him again.

"Luciano Warner, He is a deadly hitman who can kill you with no remorse without giving a fuck. Now shut up before I ask him to practice for his Next kill on you." i had tears in my eyes. My brothers don't like me much. The car stopped and i went into the house. i removed my makeup, changed into my Mickey Mouse night suit and got ready to sleep.

Every time i closed my eyes, i saw those blue eyes. It was hard to fell asleep. I got up and went to kitchen to get some water. My parents and brothers returned. My Dad looked pissed and shouted at my brothers to meet him in his study. They all went after him. I said Goodnight to nonna and my mama and get back to bed.
