

Chapter 17- The Council & Eric Talk

Eric POV

HA! Bet you thought that you wouldn't hear from me again, but I have other plans in mind for my future and remaining in my current predicament is not one of them. When I heard that the i*t Alpha Brandon had failed in his mission to weaken Alpha Inga and Goddess Emma I knew that it was time for me to make my move.

The fact that the i*t failed astounds me, I gave him everything he needed to take that bh and her mutt down but he still failed. Emma is easy to manipulate, after all she has such a pathetically soft heart but the i*t went in all guns blazing.

No matter what the werewolf council have to hear the pleas of werewolves, no matter their station or their crime if they complete the correct paperwork. While this is a serious issue and one that should be resolved, I am glad it has not been as it means that I can exploit this loophole and get my life back together, or at least out of this hell hole that Emma put me in.

Dead or resurrected, rejected or not that bh is still my mate and it is time that she is taken down a peg or two. When she decided to stay with Alpha Inga and his pack, she decided that she was no better than us, therefore she would also have to answer to the council. Not that I care, once they have done what I want them to do I will be killing them all so as to stop Emma having an escape route.

That bh is mine and no matter what I will have her, only now I plan to make her life a misery and use her to give me heirs. As many as I want, goddess or not she is still my mate and therefore still my property!

Alpha Nicholas POV

I currently sit as a member of the werewolf council, and while we have been doing huge reforms over the past year or so there are still pitfalls within our legislation. The main one being what is sitting on my desk- an application by disgraced ex-alpha Eric and his please to have his life back.

Everyone knows the story of ex-alpha Eric, he was once mated to a she-wolf in his own pack but instead of either rejecting or accepting her, he tormented and tortured her with her own sister. Together they slowly killed the she-wolf piece by piece, but no matter what they did they could not break her spirit so in the end the sister killed the she-wolf.

That would have been the end of the story and none of us would have known, but then the she-wolf returned as a goddess and took her revenge years after the incident.

Melanie died brutally along with a load of rogue wolves, all of whom mysteriously disappeared one day during an attack led by the Goddess Emma. But I know the truth, I know that the rogues were killed by Emma and then the moon goddess interfered and had to take Emma away. I thought that I had lost her then, but she returned. She was not as powerful as she once was, due to needing to have her powers sealed so that she could live.

My heart broke when I heard about this but when I saw her in the esh I knew that she was a powerhouse to be reckoned with. She has practically given up her deity powers in order to return to the one she loves, to her mate and she looks so happy.

But now I am sitting here listening to this whining ex-alpha about wanting his mate back after she was taken from him.

The ex-alpha in question is Eric. He decided that he would come here and beg us for our assistance in getting back his mate, not bothering to tell anyone that his ex-mate is mated to another. But the council are already aware of this.

Listening to this vile excuse of living esh makes me furious, but we have no option as we have to listen to every case that comes before us. And we wouldn't want Eric to get out of his punishment on a technicality because we refused to listen to him.

Once Eric nished his little speech and his crocodile tears, we adjourned to discuss the outcome.

While none of us newer members want to defy a Goddess, let alone Emma, the older members do not care and are of the impression that they are above everyone, including deities. That means that they are going to rule in Eric's favour, just to spite a goddess. I need to stand my ground and ght.

I cannot buy Emma a lot of time, but I can hopefully buy her enough.
